A. R. CURTIS ACCUSED OF A GROSS FRAUD

Secretary of Granite Coal & Fuel Company Made Defendant in Suit Filed Today.

Alexander R. Curtis, secretary, treas-urer and general manager of the Gran-ite Coal & Fuel company, is accused of gross fraud in managing the affairs of the company in a complaint filed this morning in the Third district court by the company. While he was manager of the company from March, 1. 1909 to Dec. 21, 1909, the company did $21,000 worth of business and the pro-fits amounted to $7,000 which he appropriated to his own use, it is charged.

The complaint recites that Curtis failed to keep an account of the money taken in, and the sales made and the company asks that he be compelled to make an accounting.

mpany on Jan. 1, 1909 leased a plece of ground and put up a building at 139 east Second South street where stablished a branch business. used the company's money to lease the ground adjoining and put up a building from which he is drawing rent. It is alleged that Curtis has ob-tained $450 from this source and the company also sues him for this

DISTRICT COURT NOTES.

PISTRICT COURT NOTES.

F. R. Hardie and seven other stockholders charge the directors of the Fruitland Water company with fraud in a complaint filed Friday in the Third district court. It is set forth that the company owns water rights in Wastach county and contracts with the settlers for the purchase of water and other property of a total value of $500,000. By fraud, and collusion, it is alleged, that the directors elected themselves and made an assignment of all the assets to E. W. Hammer on Oct. 18, 1993, claiming that the company was insolvent. The plaintiffs ask that a receiver be appointed and that the assignment be declared null and void. G. R. Roylance brought an action in the Third district court against C. M. Morck, justice of the peace of Murray, for a writ of certiforari to review the proceedings resulting in a judgment rendered against him by Charles F. Durand, former justice of the peace, in which M. J. Kennedy was the plaintiff. It is also asked that the judgment, which it is alleged was rendered without any service being made on the complaint be declared null and void.

MARY RANAL ARRAIGNED.

MARY RANAL ARRAIGNED.

Mrs. Mary Ranal, charged with bat-tery upon Mrs. Kate Caffall on Sunday last, was arraigned before Justice Bishop Friday afternoon and entered a plea of not guilty. The woman was released on bonds of $100 and the case set for Feb. 21 for hearing.

HEAD ADMITS GUILT.

That Richard W. Head, doing a term in the county jall for vagrancy, also had a hand in passing saws into the county jall to L. E. Driskell, the man who shot and killed Special Officer C. C. Riley, was made known Friday afternoon in Justice Bishop's court. The officers suspected Head of the offense and taxed him with the same. When taken before Justice Bishop he admitted his guilt and was ordered held to await the action of the district court.

COMPLAINT AGAINST INVENT.

COMPLAINT AGAINST JENSEN.

The Jensen Creamery company is nade defendant in a complaint issued ut of the city court Friday charging he company with violating the milk ridinance, selling milk in Sait Lake fithout a license. The case was rought to test the constitutionality of ne ordinance. Walter J. Frazier, city hood and dairy commissioner, revoked the license of A. L. Clark of Farming-in prohibiting him from selling his tilk because his dairy was not up to ne standard. Clark sold his milk to ne Jensen Creamery company which as also notified that the permit held y clark had been revoked. The creamery company bought Clark's milk just he same, so Frazier revoked the Jensen Creamery company's license. The ompany went on selling milk and the ompany.

M. Blackmarr was arrested Fri-COMPLAINT AGAINST JENSEN.

mpany.

S. M. Blackmarr was arrested Friy by the police for selling milk witht a permit. As soon as he was reised he secured a permit from Walter Frazier, and the complaint will be smissed against him.

BUSY WITH BANKRUPTS

Judge John A. Marshall Handles Many Cases This Morning.

Judge John A. Marshall of the United States court held a busy session in the bankruptcy division of the court this morning, when eight applicants were adjudicated bankrupts, four were discharged and two petitions for bankruptcy were received. Those adjudicated bankrupts were as follows:

John Nye & Sons, merchants, Garfield. Salt Lake county; liabilities, 14,603.92; nasets, 25,503.16.

Soren O. Thompson, motorman, Salt Lake City, liabilities, $2,771.55; assets, 5535.

5535.

George Porter, laborer, Salt Lake
City, liabilities, $286.05; assets, none,
James L. Alvord, farmer and stockraiser of West Weber, liabilities, $11,133.831-3; assets, $6,020.
William W. Furrow, locomotive fireman, Salt Lake City, liabilities, $542.85; assets, $50.

Assets, $50.

A. Ray Bowman, linotype operator, Ogden, liabilities, $340.33; assets, $50.

Joseph Walters, laborer, Salt Lake City, liabilities, $415.34; assets, $150.

Whitford B. Wilson, mining, Salt Lake City, liabilities, $415.49; assets, $50.

Whitford B. Wilson, mining, Salt Lake City, liabilities, $741.50; assets, $50.

Lake City, liabilities, $741.50; assets, $50.

Those discharged from bankruptcy were as follows:
Harry W. Earl, laborer, Salt Lake City, liabilities, $1,517.07, assets, $145.
James Surrage, farmer, Ogden, liabilities, $2,435.80; assets, $475.
J. F. Smith, musician, Logan, liabilities, $4,244.50; assets, $110.
John W. Slater, fireman, Ogden, liabilities, $4,244.50; assets, $150.
Petitions in bankruptcy were received from John W. Annand, a bookkeeper of Salt Lake City, whose liabilities are given at $4,539.15 and his assets at $402.45, and from Silvester H. Vowles, stationary engineer of Salt Lake City, liabilities, $2,430.59; assets, $230.

Aaron Levitt has brought suit against the Keefe Consolidated Railway Time-Saving company to recover $10,000 al-leged to be due him for services rend-ered the company up to Nov. 3, 1903, Levitt also asks for $5,361.19 alleged to be due for money advanced. be due for money advanced to the com-pany between Jan. 1, 1907 and June 1, 1909.

Ernest L. Custer, who has two wives, filed an answer in the Third district court to his first wife's suit for divorce in which he attempts to get rid of her, saying that she married a second husband and fed him to believe that she had secured a divorce from him. Her second husband, J. P. Schmidt, left her and now, he says, that she has fallen back on him for support.

WANTS TO VISIT HOME.

Wong Wu Joe, a prominent Chinese merchant of Plum Alley, this morning applied to the local office of the In the States immigration bureau for a permit to visit his native land, and lo come back again.

Rubber Glove Special

For a few days only-an extraordinary household Rubber Glove special, excellent quality, equal to the best $1 values, for-

75c a Pair

South Main

TRACY DRISKELL GETS

teneed for Smuggling Saws Into County Jail

Tracy Driskell, bother of Lucian L. Driskell, who is charged with the mur-der of Special Officer C. C. Riley, was morning and pleaded guilty to passing saws into the county jail to assist his brother in attempting to escape. He was sentenced to one year in the state

C. O. Nelson and Tobias Israel, who were both charged with falling to pro-vide for their minor children, were prought before Judge Lewis this morning and discharged. Since the men urested they have both been caring for their families and upon their prom-ise to continue to support their children the district attorney asked that the case be dismissed.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. Melvina Calder Rawlings announces the engagement of her daughter Frances Agnes to William Penn Barton, the marriage to take place Feb. 28.

Barton, the marriage to take place Feb. 28.

The marriage of Miss Jessie Lucetta Jones and Frederick Cornick took place in the temple on Thursday, and in the evening a reception was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Ray Bradford, the rooms being prettilly decorated and about 30 guests being present. The bridal couple received many handsome presents, and a delightful evening was spent by all. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Jones and a grand-daughter of Apostle C. W. Penrose. Mr. and Mrs. Cornick will make their home in Salt Lake.

Another pretty wedding of Thursday was that of Miss Melvina Rowe and J. L. Royals, the ceremony being performed at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Jennie Rowe, at 7 o'clock, and a reception following. The rooms were bright with a profusion of carnations and ferns, red and green being used throughout except in the dining room, which was in pink and white. The bride was attended by her cousin, Lillian Renshaw, and the groom by his brother, Andy Royals, and a number of friends and relatives assisted in entertaining. The bride wore a gown of steel gray silk and carried bride's roses. Many beautiful gifts were in evidence, and musical numbers were given during the evening by Miss Lillian Renshaw. About 40 were present.

The Daughters of Utah Pioneers will meet on Thursday, Feb. 24, at the Louis Renshaw. About 40 were present.

The Daughters of Utah Pioneers will meet on Thursday, Feb. 24, at the home of Mrs. M. Y. Dougall, and Mrs. Vilate Clayton Young will give a tak on the "Industries of Pioneer Women," and Mrs. Elizabeth Nebeker a description of an interesting incident in pioneer days, "The Move to Carson Valley." There will be besides musical numbers to complete the program.

Mrs. James K. Shaw and Miss Zora Shaw, who are spending the winter in New York, are at present at the Clare Arms, No. 3120 Broadway.

Arms, No. 3120 Broadway.

A large affair planned for Washington's birthday will be the costume-ball to be given by the M. I. A. of the Twentieth ward at the amusement hall, a number of interesting features to be included. Prizes will be awarded for the best dressed character in each of the following groups: National, historic, old-fashioned, dramatic and miscellaneous. Special dances will be given by the pupils of Miss Delaney and Miss Else Ward, the Highland Fling by Miss Service, Sallor's Hornpipe by Miss Afton Murdoch, rope dance by Miss Mary Murdoch and skirt dance by "a lady." The chaperones will be Dr and Mrs. C. W. Wilcox, Dr, and Mrs. E. S. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Nibley, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Nibley, Mr. and Mrs. George T. Badger.

Mrs. Charles Henrotin is guest of Mrs. Charles Henrotin is guest of honor this afternoon at a large tea, given by Mrs G. R. Walker and Mrs. J. R. Walker at the latter's home, the rooms being beautifully decorated and a number of friends assisting. The amusement is bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Beebe entertained at a delightful dinner last evening, the table being decorated in pink carna-tions, pink candelabra and covers laid for about a dozen guests.

A pleasant affair last night was the card party given by the Misses Beth and Gladys Kimball, the rooms being decorated throughout with a profusion of college pennants and a number of college games being played. Assisting during the evening were Miss Quincy Kimball and Miss Ruby Knowlton.

A number of Salt Lake people have received invitations to the military ball to be given by the battalion of cadets of the Agricultural college of Logan, to be given on Feb. 28 at the Logan auditorium.

SUIT FOLLOWS EJECTMENT.

Alvilah M. Dalton brought suit against Andrew A. Biorn to recover property from which she was ejected, together with rent and damages. Mrs. Dalton declares that she was the owner of the property and in possession of it until Nov. 3, 1908. Since Dalton has been in possession of it, she says that the rental value of it has been $225, and damages amounting to $200.

Representative Women Meet To Feast on Wit and Wisdom

Under the handsome arches of the new Louve case, lit with the picture eque mission lamps, and bright with spring flowers, nearly 200 women representing the culture of the city gathered at the long tables set among the heavy columns yesterday, and for three hours feasted first upon the choice menu provided for their detailed at the long tables set among the heavy columns yesterday, and for three hours feasted first upon the choice menu provided for their detailed in the control of the toast, while the mission and flow sould contained in the toasts, kept the audience in constant laughter. Four long tables, crossed by a central Twere bright with daffodils arranged in bowls at intervals with sprays of ferns between the constant laughter. Four long tables, crossed by a central Twere bright with daffodils arranged in bowls at intervals with sprays of ferns between the constant laughter. Four long tables, crossed by a central Twere bright with daffodils arranged in bowls at intervals with sprays of ferns between the constant laughter. Four long tables, crossed by a central Twere bright with daffodils arranged in bowls at intervals with sprays of ferns between the constant laughter. Four long tables, crossed by a central Twere bright with daffodils arranged in bowls at intervals with sprays of ferns between the constant laughter. Four long tables, crossed by a central Twere bright with daffodils arranged in bowls at intervals with sprays of ferns between the constant laughter. Four long tables, crossed by a central Twere bright with daffodils arranged in bowls at intervals with sprays of ferns between the constant laughter. Four long tables, crossed by a central Twent bright and the constant laughter for long the long tables, crossed by a central Twent bright laughter from the constant laughter for long the long tables, crossed by a central Twent laughter for long the long tables, crossed by a cen new Louvre cafe, lit with the picturesque mission lamps, and bright with spring flowers, nearly 200 women representing the culture of the city gathered at the long tables set among the heavy columns yesterday, and for three hours feasted first upon the choice menu provided for their delectation and afterward upon the "reason and flow of soul" contained in the program of toasts and the remarks of the toastmistress, Mrs. J. F. Cowan, who with a series of witty challenges, illustrative of the kernel contained in the toasts, kept the audience in constant laughter. Four long tables, crossed by a central T were bright with daffodlis arranged in bowls at intervals with sprays of ferns between, while the mission lamps, with yellow shades placed at alternate intervals and crowning all the rows of handsomely gowned women at each side, made a striking picture of it all.

At the upper end of the room, the Venetian orchestra under Louis Sautes, played a program of delightful music, ranging from classic to inspiriting rag-time. While the guests were taking their seats the orchestra played Sousa's "Free Lance" march and then, as a grace before the breakfast, Mrs. Plummer sang Henschel's "Morning Hymn" accompanied by Mrs. Harold Siegel.

Mrs J. C. W. R. Hutchinson, president of the club, introduced the toastmistress, Mrs. Cowan, who commenced with a Latin quotation, whose introduction Mrs. Cowan afterward explained was the result of a youthful promise made to herself because of an impression made by a schoolmate of hers who had delivered an early oration in the dead language much to her own envy and admiration. "I determined then and there," said Mrs. Cowan, "that if an opportunity of public speaking ever came to me I should give myself the thrill of doing my first speech in the same way."

She spoke briefly on the theme, "Exceptional women should have excep-ceptional women should have exceptional rights," keeping her hearers bubling with laughter throughout. Mrs. W. R. Hutchinson followed with a teast to "The Queen of Clubs." introducing at its beginning Mrs. J. C. Royle, the first club president, as the "Queen of Club" who, however, she said, preferred the name of "Club Mother." Mrs. Royle responded with a few words in which she recalled the modest beginning of the club and her sense of pride in looking about upon the throng of cultured women, which spoke louder than words could of the progress and prestige of the club. Mrs. Hutchinson then continued her toast.

Mrs. John Cain's toast was "Our Friends—The Guests," and she ventured a surmise that civilization had its first beginning when some member of the human race asked somebody else in to dinner. "I took courage," said Mrs. Cain, "to accept that prehistoric invitation, for the invited one could not be sure whether he was to be the guest or the dinner. It was a great stride in progress when the guest became sure that he was not the important part of the mun. The guest became sure that he was not the important part of the mun. The guest of today she said had many privileges, among them the right of criticising the cooking. The hosts' advantage capped all others in the present instance, however, in having its friends with them, and it was one of the proud laurels of the club that it now was so situated that it could indulge in pleasurable luxuries.

Mrs. Adolph Simon responding to "Dropped Stitches," said that an instance of the dropped stitch in the club had been the surrender of the Shakes-peare and other sections, and said that a remedy existed in the way of unravelling a little of the few mistakes and picking up the right threads. Mrs. H. H. Frame had for a toast, "The Men Behind the Dues." On behalf of women, may they lie like gentlemen and trust like philosophers, "and give a tribute to the man who depletes his pocket that the club woman may have her fign." She pald tribute to his show of confidence in the bubbling with laughter throughout, Mrs.

W. R. Hutchinson followed with a toast to "The Queen of Club" who, however, she said, preferred the name of "Club brother." Mrs.
club president, as the "Queen of Club" who, however, she said, preferred the name of "Club brother." Mrs.
which she recalf with a few words in ming of the club and her sense of pride in looking about upon the throng of cultured women, which spoke loader the name of the cultured women, which spoke loader preside of the club. Mrs. Hatchinson then continued her toast.

Mrs. John Calit's toast was "Our Tell a surring to the count of the human race alsed somebody in the continued her toast.

Mrs. John Calit's toast was "Our Tell a surring to the human race alsed somebody in the county of the human race alsed somebody in the county of the human race alsed somebody is the county of the human race alsed somebody is the county of the human race alsed somebody is the county of the human race alsed somebody is the county of the human race alsed somebody is the county of the human race alsed somebody is the county of the human race alsed somebody is the county of the human race alsed somebody is the county of the human race alsed somebody is the county of the human race alsed somebody is the county of the human race alsed somebody is the county of the human race alsed somebody is the county of the human race alsed somebody is the county of the human race alsed somebody is the human race alsed human race als

PERSONALS.

H. A. Strauss, consulting engineer of the Salt Lake & Ogden railroad, who is supervising the work of electrification of the line, is ill at his apartments at the University club with an attack of laryngitis. His condition is reported as improving this morning.

reported as improving this morning.

J. R. Edgehill, the woolbuyer from Nephi, is in the city today. Mr. Edgehill says the continued stormy weather renders the outcome of the wool situation rather precarious, and for that reason very little contract purchasing is being done at present.

CRIMINAL LAW PRACTISE.

"While I was engaged in criminal practise," said Senator Davis of Min-nesota to a coterie of friends one evening, "I made it a matter of principle that when a man put his life in my hands, I might go to the penitentiary.

but that my client should not lose the life which he had committed to my State Veterinarian A. C. Young is in Ogden today on official business. Ogden today on official business.

J. B. Beicher, president of the UtahKerns Tunneling Machine company, has returned from a trip into the northwest, where he says he found everybody talking of Salt Lake and its wonderful growth and progress. He thinks much capital from that section will be invested here this year in real estate and modern improvements.

C. R. West, forestry clerk at Pleasant Grove, is here to take the place of Vernon Metcalf, transferred from Salt Lake to Kanab.

H. A. Strauss, consulting engineer that were unworthy. My last great case will illustrate my principle, and indicate something of the methods which the reliable defendant criminal lawyer must pursue.

"Two brothers were in jail at Grand Forks, Dakota Territory, charged with murder. Public sentiment was so strong against them that it was difficult for the authorities to prevent their lynching. I will call them the Smith brothers. Relatives and friends of the accused came to St. Paul to see me, and retaily my services. I always talked business first, and sentiment afterward. I demanded a fee of $5,000 cash, and $1,000 for contingent expenses.

"They haggled, but I declined to penses.

"They haggled, but I declined to consider the case except on a cash basis, I assured them that while the necks of the Smith brothers might be worth $0,000 to their relatives and friends now, and up to the time of trial, I did not believe that I could collect six cents after saving those lives. Finally, they agreed to my terms, and paid in the cash. Then I engaged Bill Edwin, one of the greatest of Jury pleaders, and took him with me to Grand Forks. Meanwhile, I telegraphed Judd Moore, at Pemwith me to Grand Forks. Meanwhile, I telegraphed Judd Moore, at Pembina, to meet me at Grand Forks.

"Judd was promptly on hand, and when he called at my hotel and asked why I had sent for him, and what I wanted him to do, I merely handed him $250 and bade him good-evening. He left my room muttering: 'I guess I know my biz.'

"Two days later while a jury was being impaneled, Judd swaggered into court, walked around like a loose-jointed automaton, and finally took a chair back of mine. I heard him whisper:

"D'ye see that stout, red-faced feller with a big flannel rag around his neck?"

"I merely nodded my head. Then I

"Others may not approve of that principle, but it met with my approval as a criminal lawyer. In pursuance of that principle 'I saved the lives of some men whose lives were well worth saving; and maybe I saved some lives neck?"

"I merely nodded my head. Then I heard Judd whisper:
"Take him He's flaggin' you."
" I accepted that juror; and of course saved the lives of the Smith brothers."—Los Angeles Times,

Nineteen-Ten Spring Suits, Dresses, Separate-Skirts, Waists, Jackets, Coats

An attractive showing of delightful creations fresh from the foremost fashion centers of the world are coming to us by daily deliveries.

New Spring Styles in ladies', misses' and children's ready-to-wear clothes.

> Racks-Cabinets-Tables-Shelves are being filled to their capacity with clothes designed to fit all figures, at prices to suit every pocket book. There is every indication that the 1910 Spring Suit business will surpass all previous records. First choosing is always advantageous—we invite you to inspect the new goods.

The Millinery Dept.

Is replete with a choice variety of new millinery styles of surpassing beauty and exquisiteness-You'll be delighted, come.

This Store will close all day, Tuesday, Washington's Birthday.

GENEALOGY =

retary of the society, Elder Joseph F Smith, Jr., care of historian's office Salt Lake City, Utah.

THE GENEALOGIST AT WORK. We will assume this week that all nstructions given for the past three weeks, and that they are now ready to enter a genealogical library. It will be well to pay strict attention to these instructions, for some day, if not now, they will prove of infinite value.

The first thing for the seeker to know, is what he wants to know. It is not expected that he will go into a library and ask the librarian or attendant to spend an hour or so conversing with him, giving him the A. B. C.'s of library searching. The making and using of libraries has become quite a science in civilized countries, and all the school children become more or less familiar with the methods ing and using of libraries has become quite a science in civilized countries, and all the school children become more or less familiar with the methods of procedure. But when a genealogisal or even a public library, he requires extra instruction, and special information. We shall assume that our seeker has made up his mind that he is to search for only one line of his ancestors; he has written down all the information he already has, and has prepared himself with a notebook of proper size, pencils, and a tab of scratch paper. Now, when he goes into the library, let him look about him carefully; he will see in a moment who are the attendants, and who are callers like himself. The first rule he is to learn and observe for himself, is that libraries are places to study, not talk. If he has much talking to do, let him go are places to study, not talk. If he has much talking to do, let him go where talking does not disturb others or speak very softly indeed. When the seeker discovers who is the librarian, let him look about and see how others get their books. There are two methods employed in the best libraries of the country. One is, to write out on a slip or card furnished by the library the names of the books wanted, and an attendant comes and gets the slip, then brings the books. Another method is for the seeker to apply to the attendant for a slip on which the name of the seeker is written, and then he may seek his own books, if he knows where to find them. A good rule to follow in all cases of procedure of this kind is for the seeker to select a person who is apparently familiar with the place and its methods and then watch that person and imitate what he does. In the case of our own ilbrary, the patient librarian keeps het temper admirably and answers over and over and over the same questions day after day to new seekers. These articles are to help both her and the seeker, so that all may know a little more than they now do, and thus avoid troubling her so much while the seeker gets on much more quickly. As a matter of fact our society has provided a series of classes in the Church schools where much of this information will be given; also, there are weekly meetings of the Woman's auxiliary held in the Lion House on Wednesday afternoons where these instructions are given to all who desire them.

To proceed, the seeker may ask the librarian in any library for information about the family name he is desirous of working upon. The librarian will nut into the seekers' hands Munsel's index, if it be on the American side, or the English guide, if it be from the English side.

Now in order to acquaint ourselves with the contents and value of any book we desire to read or study, it is imperative that we shall read first of all the preface, or introduction, while the nuthor of the book has prepared to give us the reasons for writin

"This work has been prepared with a view to facilitate the study of family history, by furnishing an index to the genealogies contained in the large number of county and town histories, collections of public and privately printed genealogies, centennial anniversaries, celebrations, biographies, and other works containing the destred information. But few persons have an adequate knowledge of the amount of genealogical information to be found in such volumes, from the fact that anything like a full collection of works in those departments can only be found in the larger cities, and in the hands of a few private parties; and without consulting them, it is often an impossibility to prepare a family history, or to learn anything very definite of any particular family. With the assistance furnished by this index, no difficulty will be experienced by any individual interested in such investigations. It also affords instruction to the general reader, who may not know whether the history of his native county, town, or village has been even written and published; but its most desirable feature is the knowledge to be gained by all persons, whether residing in the country or elsewhere, who, by examining its pages, can inform themselves whether the genealogy, or pedigree of any family, or any portion thereof, in which they may feel an interest, has been printed in any volume, and if so, that they may have the benefit of such works not accessible to the compiler have been examined by the parties interested in perfecting this work. The more important names in Dr. Savage's Genealogical Dictionary, and Austin's Rhode Island Genealogical Dictionary, and Genealogical Register, and the New York Genealogical and Biographical and Genealogical Register, and the New York Genealogical and Biographical Receive and incomplete as possible, though undowbtedly there are some works, that have been inadvertently omitted. With the hope that it will supply a need which it is believed has long existed, and be of utility to the genealogical stude

CLAPTONS OF SUFFOLK.

If anyone is doing temple work for this family, please correspond with Jacob F. Gates, 672 north First West street. He is desirous of taking this line for temple work, if the work is not already done. WALKER FAMILY OF ENGLAND.

Mrs. Sarah Clayton Hart, 314 Parry avenue, Ogden, would like to corre-spond with all related to or doing tem-ple work for the above family. Her mother was a Walker and came from Nottinghamshire, England.

PALMER-KNIGHT FAMILIES. Mrs. Sally Knight Palmer, 225 Con-titution building, would like to correstitution building, would like to correspond with all doing temple work or having genealogical records of the Palmer family of America, also Knight family of America,

Wedding Bells for the Flowers—
Master Signal Electrician John F.
Flowers of the Signal Corps, National Guard of Utah, for manw years with the Salt Lake Stamp company of this city as an engraver, and Miss Chet Simpson were married this morning in the presence of intimate friends. Mr.
and Mrs. Flowers will be at home after April 1 at 63 Quince street.

JOB PRINTING AND BOOK BIND-ING.

We are the pioneers in Job Printing and Book Binding in the state. Our facilities are the best for handling any class of work, no matter how large or how small.

THE DESERET NEWS JOB DEPT.

BUS PASSENGERS

Charles E. Dagenett, prominent business man of Albuquerque, N. M. registered at the Kenyon this morn-

Willard Scowcroft, Jr., merchant of gden, is registered at the Kenyon. Walter James, a prominent flock-master of Blackfoot, southern Utah, is at the Cullen today.

WEATHER REPORT.

Tonight and Sunday; probably Colder.

YESTERDAY'S RECORD.

STOCK CERTIFICATES

stock certificates, bonds, and blank books of any size or style made to order. Estimates promptly furnished. THE DESERET NEWS JOB DEHT.

IT'S A MISTAKE

TO THINK that Jewels, Bonds and Private Papers are SAFE when hid away in some secret place in the home.

FIRE can always reach them! THIEVES can usually find them! Locked in a drawer of our SAFE DE POSIT VAULTS only YOU can get to them!

A safety drawer for $2.50 and upwards yearly. UTAH SAVINGS & TRUST CO. 235 Main Stret. Salt Lake City, Utah

R. E. Evans, Florist, 36 S. Main St. Floral designs a specialty, Phones 961.

Salt Lake Theatre GEO. D. PYPER, Mgr.

Lambardi Grand Opera Co.

MAL-CAVALLERIA RUSTI CANA AND PAGLIACCI. Prices—500 to $2.50.

Union Dental Co.

212 MAIN STREET HONEST WORK

HONEST PRICES

REMEMBER US.

We Treat You Right.